ANIMAL FOOD FOR CHICKS

In a recent report of experiments in feeding chicks, the Rhode Island Experimental station says;

The use of the proper proportion of animal food will pay a handsome profit through decreased mortality and increased weight of chicks. In feeding bear in mind that chicks in a state of nature spend practically all of their working hours in search of food, and that they do not fill their crops in ten minutes every two hours. Feeding shoud be, as far as time of attendant renders profitable, a continuous process, but by no means a continuous gorge.

The experiment which led up to this conclusion was with an incubator hatch of 219 chickens. These were separated into lots of about fifty each and placed in similar brooders. For thirty days all conditions were kept alike, except the rations. Pen A was fed a balanced ration of grains, meat and green food. The chicks grew and thrived and not one chick showed symtoms of digestive disorder. The deaths amounted to 3.9 per cent. In pen B all animal food was withheld; the deaths were 9.5 per cent. of which 75 per cent had bowel trouble. Pen C was fed on grain alone, all animal food being omitted from the ratton; the deaths were 32.7 per cent. of which 96.5 per cent showed digestive trouble. In pen D all grain food was omitted; the death of chicks were 93.7 per cent. of which 85.8 showed bowel trouble. All living chicks were weighed at the close of the test, and pen A showed the greatest average weight and breeds.

This experiment shows conclusively that outside of the brooding and conditions during incubation chicks may be killed by improper feeding. Where one does not wish to buy the prepared beef scraps, the bones and scraps from the table will go far toward feeding the baby chicks at first it put in shape so they can eat them.

THE COLGAN ESTATE

Mrs. Mary E. Colgan, widow of the late State Controller, Edward P Colgan, Thursday filed her petition for letters of administration upon the estate of her deceased husband, in the Superior Court of Sacramento county. She alleges that diligent searoh has failed to disclose the existence of a will, that the property of the estate is worth about $7,000, and the heirs are herself and her four children, Edlo M., Evelyn I., Ralph W. and Helen B. Colgan.

In addition to the property enumerated in the petition for letters of administration it is understood that Mr. Colgan left considerable life insurance which will revert to his wife and family.

Cazadero, in Western Sonoma, is somewhat excited over the reported find of a forty-foot vein of copper, which is said to have been struck forty miles from that place. The copper is located near the magnesite mine that P. O. Manson is developing.

BIG FIRE AT GLEN ELLEN

Frank Lemoine's fine large winery and its contents, including 53,000 gallons of wine, caught fire about 10 o'clock last Saturday night and was completely destroyed. Mr. Lemoine and family were in San Francisco at the time and intended to remain there for the holidays but returned home Sunday evening upon hearing of the loss of his property.

The fire is probably of incendiary origin. About four years ago Mr. Lemoine was unfortunate enough to sustain a similar loss by fire. Deducting a small insurance his loss this time will be in the neighborhood of $[illegible]000.

SQUEAKING CHARLEY'S GRANDMA

Readers of the Expositor will remember an account of the death some weeks ago of the famous Indian of Northern California, "Squeaking Charley," so named on account of his peculiar voice. The papers have just reported an account of Charley's grandmother, Mrs. Bow-Tchi-Ka, who celebrated her 131st. birthday last week at her home in Lake County. The old lady is quite hale and hearty for one of her advanced age. Her son, Zeh, died a few years ago at the age of 100 years. By counting back you will find that Mrs. Bow-Tchi-Ka was born during the stirring times of the American Revolution. She was married and had a child before the immortal George Washington passed to the great beyond.

Wm. R. Griggs Dead

Wm. B. Griggs, a pioneer of this county, died in Petaluma, Tuesday of pneumonia. He was formerly chief clerk in the Occidental Hotel in Santa Rosa but until his recent illness was occupying a similar position in the new American Hotel in Petaluma.

Uncle Sam is taking a leaf from the book of experience of commerce He is entering on a regular popularizing campaign on behalf of the navy, and in carrying out the idea, a traveling recruiting ship is to be sent up and down the Atlantic Coast to popularize the service with eligible young men. The converted yacht Wasp is to be used for the purpose. Desirable young men are to be given actual proof of the desirability of the service, and the little vessel will endeavor to disprove the popular belief that life at sea is a hard fate. This will take the place of the regular recruiting parties sent out by the government.

FRIDAY DECEMBER, 28 1906

PROSPEROUS SONOMA

The year 1906, now drawing to a close, has been one of unusual prosperity in this valley. Crops have been good and prices obtained for them a little above the average.

The merchants of the city and valley have done a greater volume of business during 1906 than during any previous year.

We have interviewed a number of Expositor advertisers and have learned that the holiday trade this season has been the biggest they have ever enjoyed.

Expositor advertisers have learned that it pays to use the best advertising medium in the valley as it reaches the people whose trade they want. If you are not already an advertiser in the Expositor, be up to-date and increase your business for 1907 by letting the people know what your business is and what you have for sale. No man can expect to succeed in business in this day and generatton without judicious advertising.

The voting machine people were dealt a hard blow a few days ago in Elmira, New York, when it was demonstrated in open court that a certain machine only registered four Democratic votes out of each ten actually cast, while the movements of the lever governing the Republican column were in each case registered perfectly. Trade machines are regularly made so that they cannot pay more than a certain fixed percentage, and it appears that there is no trouble in "rigging" a voting machine so that it will operate the same way.—Exchange.

Clad in a cream colored suit of light flannel, with a flaming red tie, Mark Twain burst on the House press gallery at Washington lately. The famous humorist smiled blandly on the correspondents. "This is'nt a suit" he said. "This is a uniform. It's the uniform of the American Association of purity and perfection, of which I am president, secretary and treasurer, and only man in the United States eligible to membership." The humonist went on to explain that he had reached the age when he believed he could dress as he pleased. He is in Washington attending the hearing of the copyright law, which authors are seeking to have amended.

As an indication of how near to total elimination is sectional feeling in the United States, an incident that took place this week is of interest. For several years Boston has prized highly a tattered and torn Confederate battle flag captured in New Orleans by Ben Butler Some few weeks ago it was decided to return the banner to New Orleans Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston accordingly brought the old flag to Washington this week and when he met Mayor Behrman of New Orleans at the waterways convention, to which both were delegates, he announced his intention of surrendering it. The war was over, the old differences had been forgotten and national patriotism was too firmly established to require outward evidences. The two Mayors parted the best of friends, and Boston undoubtedly has more respect for New Orleans, as New Orleans must have for Boston.

Gericke-Bell Wedding

At the home of the bride's parents in Tomales, Thursday, Dr. H. Bell and Miss Agnes Gericke were united in holy bonds of matrimony by the officiating priest of the parish.

The bride, who is a sister of O. W. Gericke, of Sonoma, is a granuate nurse of the Fabiola hospital where she has been practicing her profession for some time.

The groom i s the head physician of the famous hospital mentioned and stands high in the medical profession. Much happiness and prosperity is wished Dr. and Mrs. Bell by their hosts of friends.

Interesting to Orchardists

Horticultural Commissioner, W. J. Newcomb, was in this valley yesterday on official business. He came down from the county seat to ascertain if the pear blight had obtained a foothold here and to inspect nursery stock recently shipped in here. He found that the blight had barely got started in this valley but that there was every reason for the fruit grower to be on his guard.

There is no known remedy for the pear blight except that the best way to check the ravages of the disease, are to prune off and burn the parts of the tree affected. If the whole tree is diseased, burn it on the spot; don't drag it through the orchard.

So many thousand pear trees in other parts of the state have been destroyed by the pear blight that there will be a scarcity of pears for a long time to come and the prices will of course be higher. Take good care of your pear trees and don't let the blight get a start.

Four Generations at Dinner

A very happy family reunion was held at the home of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Cheney on Christmas day and a fine turkey dinner was heartily enjoyed by all present. The four generations were represented by Mrs. Arvilla McHarvey, her daughter, Mrs. Cheney, the latter' daughter, Mrs. Susan Revie and Miss Arvilla Revie.

Mrs. McHarvey is proud of the fact and was also pleased to have six great grand children and four grand children at the feast and reunion.

The many friends of this pioneer family in this valley, and elsewhere, sincerely wish that they may enjoy many happy returns of the auspicous event.

W. P. HARTMAN HELD

W.P. Hartman, well known to many people in the valley where he formerly resided, had his preliminary hearing before a Napa justice last Friday, on a charge of felony embezzlement. The justice bound him over to the superior court for trial.

Don't You Feel Well?
Ache All Over?

Feverish? Feel as though your blood was hot? Cold feet? Backache? Those warning signals which indicate that "a bad cold" or a fever is coming on? Don't get discouraged, but go home. On the way, stop in any drug store and get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When you get home take a hot bath or a hot foot bath, go to bed, cover up warm—take a dose of the Golden Medical Discovery," in the morning another dose, and you will feel better. You will not have to continue many doses before you are well. If you still persist in the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery you will find improvement in your general constitution, appetite and blood—your liver will become active and throw off the posons from the system.

Get as near to Nature's way as you can. There's a reason. Vegetable foods are usually good for the health. The human economy digests and assimilates them best. In disease, a remedy made up of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Mandrake root and Bloodroot, such as Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, is positive yet safe, is assimilated in the stomach and taken up by the blood, therefore it is the most potent means which can be employed for the regaining of lost health.

Microbes snatch at us from every corner. They mean to kill or eat us if they can. They are formed by millions on everything we eat, drink and wear. The air is alive with them. Medical science has proven in the past few years that nearly every disease is a germ disease. Such disease germs enter into the blood in two ways, either through the lungs or stomach. If the blood is pure and rich, the liver and stomach in healthy, active condition, the germs of disease cannot find a resting place there to multiply. Diseases of the lungs, bronchitis and consumption, grip and pneumonia, are very apt to spread through a factory where there is much fine dust in the air. The lungs become irritated and the germs find a fertile field for growth. Extreme weakness, feelings of nervous exhaustion, coughs and colds are the warning signals which should be heeded. One should put the system in the very best possible condition right away. Rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood—by increasing the red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shrivel up the red blood corpuscles. An alterative extract, made only of native medicinal roots, it goes about its work in nature's way. Only good can come from its use, as it invigorates and tones the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood.

"I am a firm believer in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Joseph Napoleon Herbert, Chairman Board of Relief, of 293 St. Paul Street, Montreal, Quebec. "Find that it has been of practical value to a number of men in my employ. They are especially exposed to inclement weather, and often the colds contracted run into pneumonia, stomach trouble, or kidney and liver disease. However, since we have known of the value of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' there is much less sickness, as this medicine seems to keep the blood in a healthy, active condition, and to ward off colds and all other diseases. It is a very fine tonic for a run-down system. I am pleased to acknowledge its worth."

BAD HEADACHES generally arise from bad stomachs. Foul breath, bitter taste, coated tongue, sour eructations or belching of gas, are common symptoms though not all present in every case. To cure, take small doses, only one or two each day, of old Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by him over 40 years ago. One or two a laxative, three or four cathartic.

The Vital Point

To consider when buying a heater is the draft. Exhaustive tests prove that the down-draft as it is developed in the celebrated is the only form that insures perfect combustion at a minimum of fuel expense. Furnishes twice the heat from half the amount of fuel used, because all gas generated is burned. In other heaters it escapes into the chimney.

Consider this fuel economy in buying.

$8.50 PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80 PER PAIR

Regular Price $8.50 per pair. To Introduce We Will Sell You a Sample Pair for Only $1.80

NAILS, TACKS OR GLASS WON'T LET OUT THE AIR

(CASH WITH ORDER $4.65)

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES.

Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Rolling on Rubber" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Some Theories And a Bear Trap

By C. B. LEWIS

Copyright, 1906, by M. M. Cunningham

Uncle Peter Scott, farmer on the outskirts of the village of Hillside, had lost his good wife, and his daughter Jennie kept house for him. He had got to be fifty years old and finicky, while she had got to be twenty and was called one of the nicest girls in Adams county.

Tom Barlow, the youngest of the village merchants, agreed with all others. He had driven out to see Jennie on half a dozen occasions on Sunday afternoons, and it was whispered around that a marriage would come of it. The father had scratched his head and said nothing, but in his own mind he had regarded it as a good match.

All was going well when an interruption suddenly occurred. Mr. Barlow dealt in hoes, rakes and shovels as well as in dry goods and groceries. Uncle Peter bought a hoe of him and started into the cornfield one morning to make the dirt fly. The hoe pleased him, the air was balmy and the corn was knee high and still growing. He was humming to himself and wondering how long before he would lose Jennie when he pulled over a sod with his hoe and caught sight of a big fat mole underneath.

The life or death of that mole had little to do with the future prosperity of Adams county, but Uncle Peter jumped in with intent to slaughter. He made three or four blows with the hoe and finally one tremendous blow. The mole was immolated, but at the same time the handle of the hoe was broken and the old man fell forward and plowed his nose into the ground. He got up mad. He was mad at the mole, the hoe and himself, and he jumped up and down and used cuss words.

One does not remain mad at himself very long. He finds some one else to blame for the whole thing. In this case Uncle Peter put the calamity on the shoulders of Mr. Barlow. He had sold him a hoe handle that was weak in the back—sold it with intent to defraud and deceive. Uncle Peter had sold short tons of hay more than once, but when any one cheated him he looked upon it as a wrong to all humanity. He was near the roadside fence when he massacred the mole, and he had just got the dirt out of his mouth after the fall when a man he knew came driving along in his buggy.

He naturally asked what was the matter, and the old man cut loose. He called the merchant a cheat, fraud and swindler and vowed by the whiskers of his ancestors that he would never, never buy aught more of him. He wanted his words repeated, and they were.

When the father went up to the house after another hoe and the daughter asked what was the matter he had more to say about the merchant and something particular to say to her. He made more fuss about that broken hoe handle than the county commissioners had in building a bridge over Goose creek, and he ended off with:

"Now, you gal, listen to me. If that swindler ever sets foot on my land ag'in I'll c-r-u-s-h him as I would a-a-a mouse!"

Jennie argued and protested and tried to soothe, but the father was obdurate. He told her of the message he had sent to town, and she wrote a few lines of excuse to Mr. Barlow and sent them by a passing boy. That afternoon several persons had several theories to advance to themselves.

Uncle Peter held to his anger. His theory was that Mr. Barlow would drive out in the evening and try to get speech with Jennie and seek to excuse his disgraceful conduct in selling for 25 cents a hoe not worth a dime.

Jennie's theory was that the merchant would drive out with half a dozen hoes in his buggy and tell her father to take them all, but she feared the result. The old man was mad all through, and it always took him at least a week to get over one of his fits. Old Mrs. Davis, who lived just across the road, heard something about the broken hoe, and her theory was that there would be a row of some sort and that she would be there to hear and to see.

The merchant didn't have any particular theory. He simply made up his mind to drive out to Uncle Peter's and tell him to come in and help himself to hoes, rakes and shovels without stint.

Nothing further of moment happened during the day. It was after supper when Uncle Peter was milking the brindle cow that he got another theory. It might have worked well had not his daughter observed him half an hour later oiling up the springs of a bear trap that had hung in the barn for the last twenty years. Then she got a new theory. Her father hoped and intended that some one should walk into that trap. It must be the man who sold him the deceptive hoe that he was laying for. Old Mrs. Davis kept her eye on the Scott homestead between sundown and dark, and, though no tragedy took place, she turned to her husband and said:

"Andrew, something is goin' to happen. I feel it in my bones. I've got a theory that there's goin' to be awful doin's across the road tonight."

Father and daughter sat on the porch till the clock struck 9, and then the girl arose and entered the house to go to bed. That was his chance. He jumped down on the grass and ran for his bear trap and set it just inside the gate and ten minutes later was winding up the clock with an innocent expression of countenance calculated to deceive the cat.

"Now, why did he linger behind?" asked Jennie of herself as she went upstairs, and, poking her head out of a front window, she saw him engaged in some nefarious business on the path—something that she investigated fifteen minutes later and dragged to one side on the lawn.

The merchant had been detained. He had also forgotten that farmers retired to their beds when the hens went to roost. It was 10 o'clock when he came driving out. Jennie heard him coming and walked down the road to meet him. Knowing her father as she did, she knew that a present of a dozen new hoes that night would not suffice to soothe his injured feelings. It would be best to notify Mr. Barlow of this fact and turn him back and say good night.

At about the hour mentioned above Uncle Peter roused up out of a doze with a new theory. It was to the effect that some lightning rod men might come along in the night and seek to arouse the house for lodgings and step into that waiting bear trap. He was about to get up when he remembered that a man of lightning had cheated him out of $10 five years before, and he therefore decided not to budge. He had just come to this decision when old Mrs. Davis said:

"Andrew, I'm goin' to get up and go over to Scott's."

"What fur?" he dreamily asked.

"I've got a theory that Uncle Peter has hung himself in the wood shed."

"Nonsense!"

"Don't say 'nonsense' to me. I never had a theory yet that didn't turn out right. I'm goin' right over there, and if you hear me yell out you'll know what has happened."

She partly dressed and left the house. Jennie and Mr. Barlow and the horse and buggy were not so far away that she could not have made them out had she been less occupied with her theory, but as it was she escaped her notice. The wood shed to every well regulated house is in the rear. It was so in the case of the Scott home. To reach it old Mrs. Davis had to leave the straight path, and she hadn't made above ten steps when there was a scream and a long drawn yell to freeze the blood of all hearers. Uncle Peter heard it as he was beginning to dream of broken hoe handles and fat moles, and he jumped out of bed.

Old Mr. Davis heard it as he dozed and wondered about theories, and out of bed he came with his hair trying to stand on end. Jennie and Mr. Barlow heard it and started forward with exclamations of alarm, and thus it happened that the four reached old Mrs. Davis at about the same time. She had been caught in the bear trap, of course. In leaving the path she had stepped fairly into it, and as the jaws came together she felt, as she said afterward, that the last day had come and she was ready to sail away.

There was an exciting time for the next ten minutes. The poor old woman was frightened half to death, and a good deal bruised by the teeth of the trap, and while she was being carried across the road her husband was announcing his determination to have satisfaction under the law. Uncle Peter realized that his theory had failed, and Jennie and Mr. Barlow had been discovered conspiring, as it were. It wasn't until the victim had been put to bed, her hurts attended to by a doctor and her husband calmed down by a promise that the right thing should be done that Uncle Peter turned on the young folks and demanded:

"Well, what you got to say about all this?"

"Nothing, father," answered Jennie.

"Nothing, Mr. Scott," added the merchant.

"Wall, I dunno as I have, either," observed the mole killer, as he jogged into the house and left the others at the gate to talk things over.

The Rhinoceros Bird.

Among the birds not commonly found is the rhinoceros bird, from the Transvaal. Buffel pikker is its Dutch name. Its habits are remarkable and its plumage unusual. Small flocks accompany most of the large antelopes, the buffaloes and the rhinoceroses in South Africa and run all over the creatures' bodies, picking off flies and insects. When an enemy approaches the buffel pikkers sit in a line with heads raised on the back of the animal they are attending, like sparrows on a roof ridge, and signal "the enemy in sight." The plumage is curiously close, uniform and compact, so much so that the bird has an artificial look, as if covered with painted satin and not with feathers. The general tint of the body is cinnamon brown, with yellow beak and legs, giving the color effect of a brown and yellow iris.

Oddities of Sight.

The two eyes really see two objects. If the two forefingers be held, one at the distance of one foot, the other two feet in front of the eyes and the former be looked at, two phantoms of the latter will be observed, one on each side. If the latter be regarded two phantoms of the nearer finger will be observed mounting guard, one on each side.

PURE BLOOD IS VITAL

Not everyone realizes the vital necessity of keeping the blood pure at all times. Impure blood not only causes various derangements and inability to perform one's work well but gives a ready welcome to all germs of disease with which it comes in contact. It is the rankest extravagance to allow the human blood to remain in an impure or impoverished condition. "Our Standard Remedy" is the safest, purest and best blood purifier on the market to-day. It is a new remedy, a purely vegetable preparation composed of roots, barks and herbs, and contains no calomel or other injurious or metallic drug. 204 doses for $1, with a written guarantee that your money will be refunded if you are not cured of all troubles caused directly or indirectly by bad blood. You can purchase this wonderful new remedy at Clewe's. John McNeil, sole agent for Sonoma County, Ohm's Sulphur Springs, Sonoma.
